

Ideal for all office equipment!

This three plate security system is the strongest security kit available in its class. While safeguarding your desktop computers, peripherals, printers and all other office equipment from theft, you also add a new level of asset management control.

Industrial strength adhesive securely bonds metal plates to any surface. Each plate has a holding strength of over 700 lbs. (318 kgs). Five foot steel cable links components to each other or to a single anchor point.
